

oven interior cleaning and stain removal Spills happen. It doesn't matter how careful you place dinner in the oven, you will eventually get baked on grease, spills and splatters from cooking your families favorite dishes.

refrigerator cleaning, stain and odor removal The refrigerator is the largest appliance in the kitchen and also one of the most important. Its purpose is to keep the food that is stored in it safe and germ free until it's ready to be used. However, it does not stop the growth of bacteria. So it is very important to keep your refrigerator clean so that your food remains safe for you and your family to consume.

light fixtures cleaning Just like anything else in your home, light fixtures become dirty. Dust rises and so does grease from the stove. Although light fixtures do not need to be cleaned weekly, it is wise to schedule time to complete this chore.

wall/ceiling washing and stain removal Cleaning walls and ceilings is much more efficient and economical than repainting so often. Fatty and amino acid residues from cooking, smoking, and body oils act like magnets to collect microscopic airborne particles of soil, dust, bacteria, fungi, and dead microorganisms. In time, these build up layer after layer of sticky film on our walls and ceilings, further accelerating the soiling process.

home organization Could your home use help? We will organize your room and closet space for maximum efficiency and convenience.

cupboards cleaning and organization Peering into the dark caverns of an uncleaned kitchen cupboard can be as scary as entering a dragon's cave. Fortunately, you don't need a sword to slay this dragon - we will organize and make sure you have clean cupboards when we are done.

spring cleaning The flowers are blooming, the birds are serenading, and our house still feels like it's stuck with winter blues. Spring cleaning is a tradition that allows us to freshen up our homes and get a head start on the hectic seasons of spring and summer.
